ACEQUIA TRAIL GUALDALMINA

For those who like to walk, I propose a family walk of about 4.5Km on a loop in the region of BENAHAVIS.

The walk is structured on a route called ACEQUIA TRAIL GUALDALMINA.

The course, although with some elevation gains, is passable by almost everyone including children from 5 years old... It is not passable by people with reduced mobility, cyclists or strollers.

Bring walking shoes and preferably a walking stick and some refreshments.

The course lasts between 1H30 and 2H00.

Go to the starting point: On Google Maps, enter ACEQUIA TRAIL GUADALMINA located about 25km east of LAS OLAS ESTEPONA.

The ERMITA DEL RASARIO car park is at your disposal on your right.

From the car park, go north and you will find a sign 'SENDERO ACEQUIA GUADALMINA' that offers you to make the route to the left or right.

I did the route for you by taking the loop from the right.

The first section of 1.5km is very well marked with a wooden railing. This route runs along the riverbed to the road bridge.

From a mini-irrigation dam an irrigation canal partially accompanies your journey. You will notice that the aisles of the path are sometimes strongly reworked probably by some wild boars in search of fresh roots to feed during the night.

At the end of this first section of 1500m go up to the road bridge and go up the bridge and the lower side for about 500m.

Take the path on the left at the main entrance of the Golf... Bypass the chain that prevents the access of vehicles for about 700m. you will have a magnificent view of the golf course, the residences and the sea.

About 2700m from the start, begins the aqueduct which develops on about 1200m in switchbacks in a green setting. The water flows continuously and from time to time you will see frogs, lizards ... to the delight of the children. It is a very soothing course and you can only hear the sound of the water flowing.

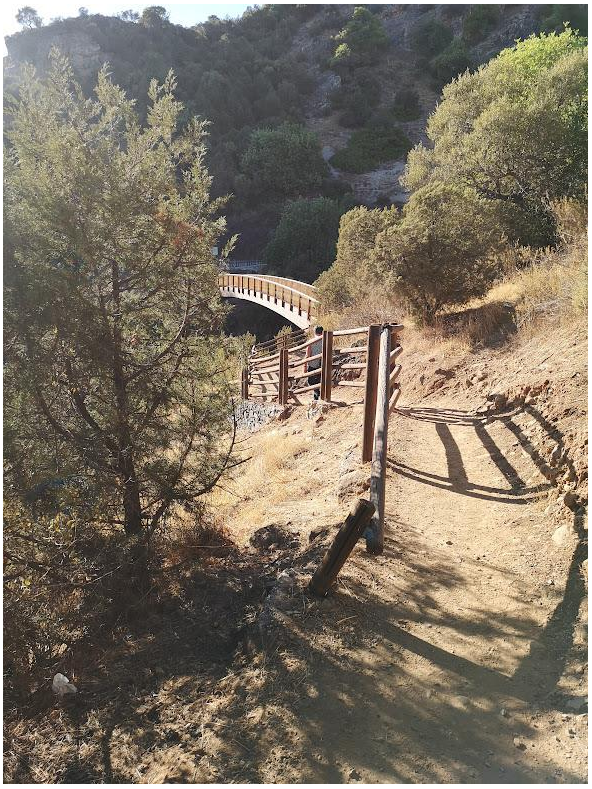

On the lower sides you will meet some cork oaks easily recognizable by their partially bare and black trunks.

At about 3900m from the start, you will then have to follow the path to the descent and leave the path of the aqueduct. Be careful, the slope is quite steep with pebbles.

At 4000m you will arrive at the pretty wooden bridge that crosses the river and will take you to the main road. All you have to do is walk along the road on the right to the car park where you will normally find your car after 4500m.

Have a nice walk...
